

THANK YOU!

Last week, St. James Mercy Hospital accomplished a significant milestone in our transformation, having secured $55 million in capital funding from New York State.

Our continued progress is a reflection of the dedication, perseverance and support of so many in the St. James Mercy community:

- The physicians, nurses, staff and volunteers who ensure we deliver quality care each and every day.
- The St. James Mercy leadership team, who worked resolutely to guide us through the funding application processes.
- The past and present boards of St. James Mercy Hospital and the St. James Mercy Foundation, and past members of the SJM Properties and St. James Mercy Health System boards, who showed leadership and forward thinking during challenging times.
- Our elected officials, including U.S. Senator Charles E. Schumer, U.S. Congressman Tom Reed, State Senator Thomas F. O'Mara, Assemblyman Bill Nojay, Assemblyman Phil Palmesano, and Hornell Mayor Shawn Hogan, all of whom worked tirelessly behind the scenes to help ensure their colleagues at the local, state and federal level understood SJMH's challenging position and our path forward.
- Our partner, UR Medicine, who is leading the development of our regional hospital network in the Southern Tier.
- Oak Orchard Health and Loyola Recovery Foundation, our new vision partners, who have made a commitment by investing in Hornell and serving our community.

Without the hard work of all of these individuals and organizations and their staffs, we could not have demonstrated to New York State why SJMH is such a critical part of our region. We thank them.

And, of course, we thank our patients, for their patience ... their confidence ... and their trust. It is our privilege to serve them.
